Cookies:

We may obtain information about your general internet usage by using a cookie file which is stored on the hard drive of your computer. A cookie is a small file which is placed on your hard drive when you visit our websites (directly or via our applications). We use information from cookies for purposes which may include:

- Identifying returning users, registrants and subscribers.
- Eliminating the need for returning users to re-enter their login details.
- Enabling you to move more easily around our sites and applications.
- Tracking your use of our sites to better develop our sites and applications in accordance with your requirements.
- Building up an anonymous profile based on your browsing patterns across our sites, applications and third party websites, which enables us to make advertisements and content available to you that is more relevant to your interests.

There are a number of ways to manage cookies. If you use different computers in different locations you will need to ensure that each browser is adjusted to suit your cookie preferences.

By visiting our website, you consent to the use of cookies as explained above.

Where we store your personal data:

All of the information you provide to us is stored on our secure servers.

We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy and the Act.

All information you provide to us is stored on our secure servers. Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of our site, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share a password with anyone.

How we use your information:

We use information held about you in the following ways:

- To ensure that content from our site is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your computer.
- To provide you with information, products or services that you request from us or which we feel may interest you, where you have consented to be contacted for such purposes.
- To carry out our obligations arising from any contracts entered into between you and us.
- To allow you to participate in interactive features of our service, when you choose to do so.
- To notify you about changes to our service.

We may also use your data to provide you with information about goods and services which may be of interest to you and we or they may contact you about these by post, email or telephone.

If you do not want us to use your data in this way, please tick the relevant box situated on the form on which we collect your data or unsubscribe at the bottom of any electronic correspondence from us.

PRIVACY POLICY

Disclosure of your information:

We may disclose your personal information to third parties:

- In the event that Vacherin Limited is acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held about our customers will be one of the transferred assets.
- If we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation.

This includes exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

Your rights:

You have the right to ask us not to process your personal data for employment or marketing purposes.

You can use the unsubscribe button at the bottom of all marketing correspondence to opt out of receiving future communications or you can contact us via our email or postal address at any time.

Access

The Act gives you the right to access information held about you. Your right of access can be exercised in accordance with the Act. Provision of such information will be subject to the supply of appropriate evidence of your identity.

Third party websites:

If you leave our site via a link or otherwise, you will be subject to the policy of that website provider.

We have no control over that policy or the terms of the website and you should check their policy before continuing to access the site or providing any personal data to them.

Changes to our privacy policy:

If amendments are made to this policy, we will post an updated version on our website and you may be notified via email. We advise that you check this page regularly to keep up to date with any necessary changes.
